

ROB MAN WHO IS DAZED BY MOTOR CRASH

Two Young Men Admit Committing Robbery at Dickinson Sunday Morning

MAN'S EYE IS INJURED

Say Autoist, Whose Eye Was Hanging Out, Was Robbed

Two young men giving their names as William Rather and Sigard Simpson, confessed to police here this afternoon that they robbed a man believed to be W. R. Lee, whose eye was dazed following an automobile accident just outside Dickinson early Sunday morning. The two men will be taken back to Dickinson for trial.

According to the written confession the two made, they had come into Dickinson from the west. Simpson said his home was in Portland, Oregon, and Rather hailed from Tacoma, but formerly lived in Staples, Minn. They were run out of the station at Dickinson by policemen and started walking east.

They met a man in the road, they said. He was dazed. One eye was hanging out of the socket. He was bruised. He told them he could remember nothing detailed about it. They walked back to the car, a roadster. Some papers and letters were on the ground. The two men said they took one of two cartons of cigars which had been thrown out on the ground, some letters and papers and hopped on a freight train.

They left the badly injured man wandering in the road, they told police. When they were on a freight train they opened the letters and found a check of $68.86 made out to W. R. Lee by the Liggett-Myers Tobacco company. It is supposed that the injured man was Lee. Simpson and Rather said they got off the freight at Mandan and walked to Bismarck.

The two men, Simpson and Rather, were arrested here about 11 o'clock last night. This afternoon they confessed to Chief of Police Martinson.

Gets 15 Years.
Harry Smith, a negro, was given 15 years in the state prison here today by Judge Nussle on a charge of robbery. The case was aggravated because of an alleged attack on a white girl. Smith denied the attack. He stole about $12 to $15 off the girl after mistreating her, police said.

Auto Theft Charged.
A. M. Berry, alias Phillips, is under arrest here, charged with stealing a Ford coupe in Minneapolis. An officer will come from Minneapolis to take him back. Chief of Police Martinson said the man admitted stealing the car, which he traded in a North Dakota city for another Ford. He was in Bismarck as a magazine solicitor, it was said.

WHEAT CUTTING NOW UNDER WAY

Binder Hums in Scores of Fields in This Section

The binder is now humming in the wheat fields of western North Dakota. Scores of farmers have finished cutting rye and now are cutting wheat.

From east, west and south of the city some reports that early wheat is being cut. A traveler from Minot said that all along the route binders could be seen in wheat fields. While many farmers are cutting the wheat as soon as possible to avoid possible injury by hail much of the early wheat is said to be plenty ripe enough.

The hay harvest is well under way with an unusually fine crop. Many farmers will put up sufficient forage feed to last them through two years of scarcity.

The end of the present week, it is believed, will see the wheat harvest general over the Slope county.

He has been in North Dakota for several days to help with plans for the exchange, being director of field organizations of the North American fruit and vegetable exchange, which has been purchased by the national farm bureau.

NATIONAL ARMY FORCES AGAIN SCORE VICTORY

Capture Stronghold in County
Mayo from the Insurgent Forces

CASUALTIES OVER 100

(By the Associated Press)
Dublin, July 24.—National army troops have gained a fresh victory in west Ireland by capturing Ballymahon, county Mayo, from the Republican irregulars, it was announced today.

The Free State triumph in the capture of Limerick was swiftly followed by successes in the surrounding district. A number of minor positions in this area have been added to the list of Free State victories according to today's official bulletin.

The total number of casualties in the Limerick fighting has not been accurately estimated, although it is known that at least fifteen of the national troops were killed and 87 wounded. It is generally believed that at least thirty of the irregulars lost their lives. The total number of casualties suffered by Free State forces during the capture of Waterford was nine killed and nineteen wounded.

INSURGENTS BURN BARRACKS
London, July 24.—Unconfirmed reports received in London today said the Irish irregular forces were retreating with all speed into the Galtees and Knockmealdown mountains, harassed by Free State troops who are pressing them hard and preventing them from concentrating for resistance.

A Waterford dispatch to the Daily Express says the irregulars have burned the barracks at Clonmel and Tipperary, which had long been held as garrisons and it is believed the national army forces have occupied these places. This however is not claimed in any official report.

The express correspondent says it is believed the pressure being exerted by the national troops upon both flanks of the Republicans will compel them to make a stand, perhaps their last, in these mountains. Some of the other correspondents doubt whether they will be able to make a stand anywhere, although they do not draw the conclusion that an early end of resistance can be expected. The various views however, obviously are largely speculative, since none of them can be verified except by the general turn of events.

MENTION CROPS WHEN WRITING TO FRIENDS, IMMIGRATION MAN URGES

"Wheat, oats, barley and rye will yield above normal this year," declared P. O. Williams of the department of immigration after his return from a recent inspection trip through Burleigh, Emmons, Logan, and McIntosh counties.

"The crop generally is well advanced with many fields already tassel and the silks have appeared," he said. "This would indicate that North Dakota is well within the corn belt and will, with hogs and dairy products, be the source of much future prosperity and wealth."

He asserted that with the possible exception of the Red River Valley where certain sections are below normal, all prospects indicate a fine harvest. He said the wheat and oats fields in the area of the recent hail storm could be cut for hay, and in this way thousands of tons of splendid roughage secured. By the utilization of the

FLIVVER DIVES 35 FEET INTO MISSISSIPPI

(By the Associated Press)
Minneapolis, July 24.—Showing a number of bruises, Harry Snyder, Fargo, North Dakota, entered a Minneapolis police station today as a patrolman was preparing to drag the river, the occupant of an automobile that crashed through the Tenth avenue bridge railing, and said:

"Don't drag the river captain, here I am."

And then Snyder told the story of how his automobile happened to have crashed through the bridge railing and fallen 35 feet to the river bank below. Snyder said that he had cranked his engine on a grade when "the darned thing just popped me on the head, ran over me and dived down."

There was no other occupants in the car at the time, Snyder said. The car was a mass of wreckage when found.

N. P. UNDERPASS TIMBERS SET

Most Difficult Part of Viaduct
Said Completed

The Northern Pacific railroad bridge crews have completed what is said to be the most difficult part of the viaduct on the Main street road to the river bridge. Slow orders have been removed and trains now are speeding across the portion again.

For several weeks workmen have been driving heavy piling into the embankment. One pile has been placed under every other tie for a distance of about 75 feet. Cross timbers were set in, and the railroad track is now held up by the timber work instead of the embankment.

The bridge crew say this is the most difficult work as a bridge 75 feet long had virtually been constructed. Removal of dirt is the next step.

SCHNEIDER TO DISTRICT COURT

Justice Casselman Binds Man
Over After Hearing

Kasimir Schneider was bound to district court by Justice of the Peace W. S. Casselman at the conclusion of his preliminary hearing on a charge of murder in the first degree, Saturday night. Clara Fisher, a witness for the state in the closing moments of the hearing, testified that Schneider had told her he was going to get rid of his wife.

Two witnesses who had been held in jail, Roman Hedok and John Petthigohy, were ordered released. Judge Nussle entered an order providing for the release of Schneider on bail. He will be under $10,000 bail until July 28 when his $15,000 bail is to be executed. His brother, John L. Schneider, living near Napoleon, and Ben Meier signed his bond.

Schneider stoutly denies the charge that he poisoned his wife.

OFFICERS CORPS WILL BE CUT

Army Board Begins Work
Made Necessary by Order

(By the Associated Press)
Washington, July 24.—The board of general officers headed by Major General Joseph T. Dickman, appointed by "Secretary Weeks in compliance with the current army appropriation bill was called in its first session at the war department today to begin its labors of selecting nearly 2,000 regular officers, who are either to be retired, demoted one grade or honorably discharged in order to cut the officers' corps "the first of the year to the limits" set by congress.

The records of practically every one of the more than 12,000 officers now on the regular rolls, including the general officers, must be examined by the board and the relative value of these officers to the army determined in order that the separation from the active service required can be completed by December 15, the date set by the war department.

HAYS STRIKES AT CENSORSHIP

Head of Motion Picture Industry in Los Angeles

Los Angeles, July 24.—Will H. Hays, former postmaster general and now head of the motion picture producers and distributors association, here today for a week's study in the stronghold of the industry said to interviewers that "the principal of freedom upon which this nation was founded means public censorship of press, pulpit, film, or spoken word, virtually an impossibility."

Mr. Hays predicted "state-wide or nation-wide censorship will fail in everything it undertakes. It hasn't been done successfully and never will be. Too many people who know nothing about the business are named on censorship boards. We are going to obviate the necessity of censorship."

CANVASS GIVES BURR MAJORITY OF 498 VOTES

Complete reports from auditors of the state giving the vote for Judge A. G. Burr and W. H. Stutsman for judge of the supreme court give Burr a majority of 498 over Mr. Stutsman, increasing the lead of Burr as shown in a previous canvass of the unofficial vote. This is believed to be an accurate tabulation of the vote in the various counties as shown by the results of the county canvassing boards and to remove doubt as to the result of the official canvass to be made this week.

Pennsylvania Executives Try
Hand at Ending Anthracite Men's Strike

Ebensburg, Pa., July 24.—Production of coal in mines affected by the strike was resumed in this region today, under the scrutiny of Pennsylvania national guardsmen, a number of companies reported.

Major McKinney, commanding the troops in this region issued a public statement in which he said the only duty of the soldiers was "to prevent any possible outbreak." He said his men would not patrol the mines or highways.

PLAN DISTRIBUTION

(By the Associated Press)
Washington, July 24.—Simultaneous coal operators representing the present producing districts in six states gathered here at the call of Secretary Hoover who sought their co-operation with the government and the railroads in a coal distribution scheme designed to protect the carriers, public utilities and other necessary industries against a shortage and prevent profiteering during the strike emergency.

The plan contemplates the creation of a central committee, with representatives from the departments of commerce, justice, interior and the Interstate Commerce Commission, operating through local committees in the producing districts of Virginia, West Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and Alabama.

Coal distribution it is planned will be controlled through pooling in the various producing districts and the distribution of cars under a preferential system to be instituted under authority of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

While the plan is assigned to operate effectively through cooperation of the operators and the railroads, it is founded on the authority of the Interstate Commerce Commission authority to act in emergency on behalf of interstate commerce. It is by this authority, it was explained, that the commission would be able to control conditions, both as to distribution and price levels, should the cooperative effort in any district fall short.

Senator Kellogg, Republican, Minnesota, saw Mr. Hoover for a few minutes before the opening of the conference. The senator said he had merely wished to inquire as to the situation which he declared was "bad."

LEAVES FOR MINE AREA

Detroit, July 24.—Governor Grosbeck left Detroit for Saginaw today prepared to take some definite step toward bringing about resumption of operations in Michigan coal mines.

He was scheduled to confer with T. Leo Jones, president of district 24, United Mine Workers of America, this afternoon regarding the proposals made to the miners by the governor last week which suggested the workers return to the mines and produce coal for state and municipal purposes either under private or public control.

Mr. Jones is quoted as saying miners of Michigan cannot return to the mines without permission of national union officials. John L. Lewis, national president of the United Mine Workers, already has informed the governor such permission will not be given in Michigan until a national agreement between operators-miners has been reached.

MAYORS TRY FOR PEACE

Scranton, Pa., July 24.—Mayors of five cities in the anthracite region and district president William J. Brennan, Thomas Kennedy and C. J. Golden of the miners union will confer here today on a proposed plan for bringing about a settlement of the anthracite wage controversy. The meeting was called by Mayor John Durkan of Scranton, who returned last night from Washington where he conferred with President Harding.

Mayor Durkan said that the outlook for a quick adjustment of the troubles of the operators and miners in the anthracite regions is bright. He would not reveal what plan he had in mind for ending the suspension. It was understood, however, that he has a proposal for the appointment of an arbitration commission of five members, none of whom would be affiliated with the miners or operators, to make a

SPECIAL RAILROAD RATE GRANTED FOR HARVEST LABORERS; ELABORATE PLANS MADE FOR MEETING DEMANDS

$5 One-Way Rate Provided from Twin Cities, Duluth and Superior by Three Railroad Lines.—Governor Says 25,000 Laborers Will Be Needed to Harvest Crop and Asks Cooperation

As an incentive to secure labor for the harvesting and threshing of North Dakota's grain crop, railroads are offering a special rate of $5 for fare to any point in North Dakota from Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth and Superior effective August 1 to 15. Parties of five or more must apply in a group to obtain the special fare. The special rate was secured from general passenger agents and traffic managers of the Northern Pacific, Great Northern, Soo and Milwaukee railways at St. Paul. Gov. Nelson and V. E. Smart, representing the railroad commission, attending the conference.

"An enormous amount of labor will be needed to handle the 1922 crop," declared Governor Nelson today. "The federal bureau of crop estimates places our prospect on July 1 at 94,000,000 bushels of wheat, 24,000,000 bushels of rye, 20,000,000 bushels of potatoes and also big crops of oats and barley. Preliminary surveys indicate that 25,000 laborers will have to be obtained from outside sources to handle this crop.

"The state department of agriculture and labor, in co-operation with the North Dakota extension division, has mapped out a campaign to bring the necessary number of qualified laborers into the state and distribute them where needed. The reduced rate offered by the railroads, the first for harvest hands since 1909, and the lowest rate for many years, should be a big incentive for young men of the farms in Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota and Wisconsin, to come to North Dakota, see what the country produces and at the same time make a stake.

GOLDEN VALLEY CROPS FINE

Crops in Golden Valley county look better than they have for the last seven years and it is believed the acreage is 15 per cent more than last year, says O. C. Attlewood of Beach, in response to an inquiry by The Tribune.

There is no rust, he says, and the harvest will begin on August 1 to 15, with no danger of drought in the meantime. "It looks like 20 to 30 bushels an acre," he says of wheat. The corn crop is late but good and the condition of oats, barley and potatoes is excellent. There is a 20 per cent increase in the flax acreage.

Much labor will be needed and a labor shortage is feared.

GOVERNOR ALLEN INVADERS HOME TOWN OF WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE

(By the Associated Press)
Emporia, Kan., July 24.—With Governor Henry J. Allen scheduled to make an address in Emporia, the home of his friend, William Allen White, today, there was much speculation as to whether the two men would meet on the street, in view of the happenings of the last week. Mr. White has taken down his placard, "We are for the striking railroad men fifty per cent," which Governor Allen declared was posted in a window of the Gazette office in violation of the Kansas industrial court law, but not until a warrant had been sworn out for his arrest and he had put up a bond to appear in court.

White, a supporter of the industrial court law differed with the act, declaring the governor's view interfered with free speech. The editor and the governor have been friends, both politically and privately for a long time, and throughout the present differences neither has expressed a change in his attitude.

It was at first thought that both men would speak from the same platform today, but Mr. White announced last night that he had not agreed to speak and would not do so because he "did not want to embarrass Henry."

Chicago, July 24.—The 10,000 unionized railroad station agents will not be called out on strike, W. J. Noone, president of the organization, announced today after a conference with W. L. McMenimen, labor member of the labor board.

"I will instruct my men to remain at work and order that committees confer with the road managements over all points at issue," he said.

SEEK SEPARATE PEACE

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, July 24.—Interest in the railroad strike today was centered in the separate peace efforts of officials of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad in their meeting at Baltimore tomorrow with representatives of the striking shopmen. Despite the failure last week of similar efforts made at St. Paul it was confidently predicted that the Baltimore conference would obtain favorable results.

Should the meeting result in an adjustment it was expected other railroads would follow the same course. B. M. Jewell, head of the shopmen's union refused to comment on the Baltimore parley, but previously had acknowledged receiving offers of settlement from a number of roads.

The silence of federal officials today was interpreted as meaning that President Harding was inclined to let the situation drift for a few days, while he received the report of Secretary of Labor Davis.

That the president might take some action soon was indicated in his efforts to obtain the facts from all angles. The conference with Chairman Hooper and Secretary Davis' meeting at Mooseheart, Illinois, with strike leaders, a member of the labor board and a commission of cancellation of the department of labor, seemed to strengthen belief a definite plan was being made.

Governor Neff announced that he was prepared to send aid to any points where trains were being delayed by violence or inability of railroads to obtain men, but said that ample protection could be given by state rangers and that none of the Texas national guard would be sent for the time being. Railroads which had declared embargoes on perishable freight continued to enforce the ban and motor trucks were pressed into service in several instances. At Boone, Iowa, motor trucks were being used to carry mails to and from the town of Moline.

Few disturbances were reported over Sunday.

B. M. Jewell, head of the shop crafts had no comment to make on the situation while Ben Hooper, chairman of the labor board sat silently in his office telling all reporters that "there is nothing to give out." He still declined to discuss his recent conference with President Harding or to say whether the president had suggested any definite moves by the board. The statement by Mr. Hooper last night that the board planned no further activity at present was reiterated.

INJUNCTIONS ASKED

Indianapolis, July 24.—The Pennsylvania Railroad company filed two petitions in United States district court here today for temporary injunctions to restrain their striking employees from interfering with the operations of its lines in Indiana.

A hearing on the petitions will be held here later in the day before Federal Judge Francis E. Baker of Chicago.

One of the petitions is on behalf of the Fort Wayne division of the road and names 125 defendants, and the other is in behalf of the Panhandle division which operates in and out of Indianapolis and names 1,300 defendants.

The petitions were on the same order as those filed a few days ago in behalf of the Big Four, Wabash, Baltimore and Ohio, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Western, Monon and Chicago and Erie railroads, on which Judge Parker granted temporary injunctions in Hammond, Indiana, last week. The hearings on making these injunctions permanent were to come up in federal court here today.

Memphis, Tenn., July 24.—Frank Jenkins, a negro, said to have been a railroad employee, was killed and W. S. RADIO SCHOOL WILL BE HELD BY LOCAL K. C.

Father Hillory Engaged for Series of Lectures to Be Given in August

The local Council of the Knights of Columbus has made arrangements to have a three-day series of lectures given for the benefit of those interested in the subject of radio on August 16-17-18. Fr. Hillory, teacher of physics at St. John's University, at Collegeville, Minn., has been engaged to give the lectures. The St. Paul Pioneer Press recently devoted nearly a whole page to Fr. Hillory and his work in radio at Collegeville and stated that he was one of the best authorities on the subject in the Northwest.

The number of radio fans is increasing very rapidly and many amateurs are building their own sets. The meetings will be devoted to advising and showing amateurs how to construct their sets so as to get the best results and how to avoid mistakes. It is thought the lecture method of advising and helping amateurs will be much more effective than such advice as they can get by correspondence. There are at present several commercial sets in the city and the owners have been getting very satisfactory results, considering the conditions that prevail in the summertime. With the coming of cool weather and the disappearance of summer static much better results are sure to be obtained.

The Knights of Columbus set at St. Mary's school has received from over twenty sending stations. Regina, Moose Jaw and Winnipeg in Canada, and Great Falls, Montana, Kansas City and Denver in the states, being some of the large stations picked up. The lectures in the evening will be illustrated with demonstrations will be given. Following each lecture an hour will be devoted to answering questions and giving advice.

Local dealers in radio supplies will be requested to exhibit different makes of radio receiving sets and the different parts that can be bought by those desiring to construct their own sets.

The lectures will be held in the Auditorium at St. Mary's school and only a very nominal charge will be made so as to enable all those interested in the subject to become thoroughly informed on this fascinating discovery at very slight expense.

SEN. CULBERTSON RUNNING THIRD IN TEXAS RACE

(By the Associated Press.)

Blanton of Abilene in the second "run off" primary August 26. Representative Blanton had 9,589 votes with half the total unofficial votes of the state counted. Former Congressman Oscar Callaway of Fort Worth had 9,221; W. J. Cunningham of Abilene 8,289 and J. B. Dillrell of Coleman, 8,208. United States Senator Charles Culbertson running third, still had a chance of retaining his seat. Earle B. Mayfield, was holding his lead of 24,000 over James E. Ferguson, while the senatorial incumbent was 33,000 votes behind Mayfield. Two of these three will enter the August run off.

"UNWRITTEN LAW" MAY BE INVOKED IN AN EFFORT TO SAVE MRS. PHILLIPS, ACCUSED OF "HAMMER MURDER"

By NEA Service

Los Angeles, July 24.—Will the "unwritten law" for years the plea of jealous husbands who have killed, save from the gallows Mrs. Clara Phillips, victim of gossip?

This is the question of all Los Angeles as the 23-year-old wife and slayer awaits trial here for the killing of Mrs. Alberta Meadows, pretty young widow when Mrs. Phillips accused of undue intimacy with her husband.

The husband, A. L. Phillips, an oil man, denies his wife's charges concerning Mrs. Meadows—but no witness denies that Mrs. Phillips believed them with all her heart, and that she hammered her victim to death believing her the violator of her home.

Unfounded Rumor
Evidence has failed to show convincing ground for Mrs. Phillips' suspicion, yet somewhere a hint, a bit of covert gossip, or a self-developed pang in an emotionally high-keyed heart, started the insane jealousy which ended in death for one and the arrest of the other.

"A victim of gossip," say all who knew Mrs. Meadows. "She was innocent—it was the lying tongue of scandal, the poisonous fith of slanderous minds that brought her to her death."

"A victim of gossip," say all who know Mrs. Phillips. And her husband echoes it.

"It was the scandal-mongers, the lying tale-bearers and insinulators that poisoned her mind against Mrs. Meadows," they say.

Abnormal Jealousy
Jealousy!—a jealousy which the mere death of her supposed rival could not appease, a jealousy which demanded the feel of tortured flesh beneath repeated blows; which demanded disfigurement. For the wife did not purchase a revolver, but a hammer, according to the woman police say was an eye-witness, Mrs. Peggy Caffee.

Mrs. Clara Phillips (center) is held for murder in Los Angeles, on a charge of having beaten to death Mrs. Alberta Meadows (right). Mrs. Peggy Caffee (left) was an unwilling eye-witness to the crime, she says. Above, in sketches, is pictured the crime as police say it was told to them.

This is the story of Mrs. Caffee as officials say she told it to them:

"Mrs. Phillips and I went shopping Wednesday (July 12). At the first store to which we went, Mrs. Phillips purchased a hammer.

"Later we met Mrs. Meadows, evidently by appointment. Mrs. Phillips asked Mrs. Meadows to drive us in her car to her sister's house. Mrs. Phillips directed the way, and we drove to a lonely road. Then—

"Stop, damn you! I want to talk to you," Mrs. Phillips commanded. "Mrs. Meadows left the car and Mrs. Phillips followed.

Accused Mrs. Meadows
"Mrs. Phillips accused Mrs. Meadows of intimacy with Mr. Phillips. There was an argument, and Mrs. Phillips struck with the hammer, the blow glancing off the other woman's shoulder. Mrs. Meadows ran, but Mrs. Phillips overtook her and brought her back, raining blow after blow upon her victim's head and face as she dragged her by the hair."

Mrs. Caffee, almost overcome by the sight, staggered down the road, half-fainting, she told her questioners. Soon Mrs. Phillips overtook her in the car and made her enter. They drove home.

"She threatened me with death if I ever said a word about the affair," Mrs. Caffee said with a frightened look in her eyes.

Husband's Story
Here Mrs. Phillips' husband picks up the story, as the police have it:

"She came home to me and thought she had done something to be proud of," he says.

"Your pretty sweetheart is not so pretty now," she told me.

"She wanted to give herself up. She thought the authorities would believe she was justified."

But the husband knew better and counseled her against surrender. So she fled to Arizona. She was arrested at Tucson where she was staying under an assumed name.

Phillips, tortured by a hundred conflicting emotions, had told the story to police. The prisoner denied the charges—even denied the identity—but was locked up and later was brought back here.

"LIGHT WINE AND BEER" BATTLE CRY OF EDWARDS IN SENATE RACE

BY EDWARD M. THIERRY.

Trenton, N. J., July 24.—Anyone who thinks prohibition is dead as a political issue would be disillusioned by a talk with Edward I. Edwards, governor of New Jersey.

Everybody knows Edwards is wet politically. He was elected governor on a wet platform, and he's just as wet as ever in his present fight to go to the United States senate to succeed Senator Frelinghuysen.

And, if he gets to the senate, he promises to start something. Two things, in fact.

First, legislation legalizing beer and light wine.

Second, war on the Anti-Saloon League and kindred organizations.

"The saloon has passed forever from America," he says, "and I am opposed to its return. But I am in favor of modification of the Volstead act to permit manufacture and sale of beer and light wines under federal supervision, all manufacturing to be done under a pure food act.

"If that cannot be done legally, I am in favor of modification of the eighteenth amendment so that it can be done."

Governor Edwards told NEA Service he believes prohibition modification is inevitable. Explaining his war on what he calls professional reformers, he says:

"Political lobbies and propaganda should be strictly regulated. The Anti-Saloon League maintains a powerful lobby and secretly financed propaganda. Such an organization should be compelled to be incorporated and file a public accounting of where its money comes from and how it is spent.

"I introduced such a bill into the

EDWARD I. EDWARDS.

New Jersey legislature and it was promptly squelched. I'm going to do it again—aimed at the Anti-Saloon League—if I get to the United States senate."

Controlling "pernicious lobbies," says Edwards, is an important part of controlling campaign expenditures. And one of his platform planks is "anti-Newberryism." Others are reduction of income taxes; control by the states, rather than the federal government, of funds spent for public health, child hygiene, and public roads.

Lays Nation's Unrest at Door of Boze Ban.

The main issue, however, is prohibition. Governor Edwards calls it "the liveliest thing that ever happened."

"I'm against the hypocritical situation that has been created," he says, "it's a deceit. Basically, the unrest in this country is due to prohibition. It has not reduced crime—but has increased it."

"Of course, I want it understood that I yield to no one in respect for law and its enforcement. It is because I am convinced that 'public opinion' makes it impossible to enforce many existing laws that I am determined to have them changed so as to make them possible of enforcement."

Governor Edwards' friends are making considerable political capital out of that fact that he is politically wet and personally dry, while they charge that Senator Frelinghuysen is personally wet although he voted dry.

"New Jersey," says Edwards, "is no wetter than other states. We're frank about it, though, and the others are afraid to be."

TIDE HAS NOW TURNED FOR HIM STATES HOGAN

St. Paul Man Declares Tanlac Has Put an End to Four Long Years of Suffering—Feels Like He's in His Twenties Again

"I suffered four long years, but the tide finally turned when I got Tanlac and I'm now enjoying the best of health," said Patrick Hogan, of 401 Belmont St., St. Paul, Minn.

"I had a world of trouble with indigestion and nervousness, and my appetite was so poor I had to force myself to eat and after every meal my heart would palpitate until I had to gasp for breath. I was so miserable and restless many nights I just had to get up from bed and pace the floor and I got so weak and run down I could hardly work."

"Well, Tanlac had me improving from the start and now I'm feeling hale and hearty, I relish all my food and eat anything I want without suffering a bit. My nerves are steady, I sleep like a log and feel as if I were in my twenties again. Tanlac will always get my highest endorsement."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

ADJUTANT GENERAL FRASER GOES TO WILLISTON; LITTLE TROUBLE IN N. D.

Although apprehension is manifested in some quarters reports received by various state departments here indicate no serious trouble as a result of labor disturbances in the state. Local authorities generally believe they could control any situation that might arise.

Adjutant-General G. A. Fraser was at Williston today to make a survey of conditions there, conflicting reports having been received. The sheriff of Williams county, according to reports received here, swore in six deputies, of which two were striking railway shomps. This action was the subject of complaint in some quarters and highly approved in others. The Great Northern railroad has been employing outside men there.

One report from New Rockford said that two men who had been working for the Great Northern had disappeared, probably having been frightened into leaving the city. The Great Northern railroad brought in 28 men to work there, housing them in boxcars. Picket lines are drawn tight at New Rockford.

Officials of the Soo Line here maintain that they have experienced no difficulty in obtaining men to work in their shops. No trouble has been reported on the Northern Pacific.

One union coal mine, at Haynes, North Dakota, is employing non-union labor, it is reported. The striking union miners are still living in company houses, no rent being paid. No attempt has been made to open up the Washburn Lignite Coal Company's mine at Williston, where probably 150 union miners are on strike, but directors of the company are expected to decide upon a policy this week.

A large part of the surplus war department equipment now in the hands of the highway commission could be used to transport mails, if necessary. The department could probably put into service 100 trucks now in Bismarck and more with additional repair work. There are about 200 trucks in the hands of counties and cities which could be recalled. No steps have been taken, however, to mobilize equipment. Inquiries have been made by the postal department.

Special Railroad Rate Granted for Harvest Laborers

trict from which we are trying to draw laborers, and the state department of agriculture and labor will establish headquarters at 117 Marquette Ave., Minneapolis, where the men will be directed to the points where they are needed in this state. In this way we hope to attract laborers who will do an honest day's work at a reasonable wage. Even though we have 'bumper crop' prospects, prices of farm products at the present time are so low that labor must be performed efficiently and economically if the farmers are to make a profit on what they produce."

J. W. Haw, county agent leader at the North Dakota agricultural college, will perfect organizations in each county, working principally with the county extension agents, to handle the demands for labor and send them to the state office in Minneapolis.

"Under our plan the county agricultural agent will act as a clearing house for the demands from the county," declared Mr. Haw. "Farmers will phone in to the county agent's office telling the number of men they need and making arrangement to advance the fares where necessary. The county agent will wire to the Minneapolis office, where men will be assembled in groups of five to fill the requisite number and placed on board train with their tickets to the particular destination, where they will report to the county agent and be distributed."

"In the few counties which do not employ county agents, orders will be accepted and filled from bankers or other responsible persons, there will be no special organization within these counties to handle the situation, and they will have to depend to a greater extent on the regular floating supply."

Have Paid Secretary.
Through the activities of the farmers, business men, bankers and county agent, a county-wide labor board has been formed for Cavalier county with a paid secretary to handle the labor situation, according to C. B. McMillan of Hannah, banker and farmer who attended the recent conference at St. Paul.

"We have an organization that will work like clockwork in gathering the requests for labor from each community, send in our order with the cash advance for fares to the state office in Minneapolis, meet the men when they arrive here, and get them out to the farms. We have already set our wage scale for the season, $3 per day for shocking, and for threshing wages $3.25 for field pitchers, $3.50 for teamsters, $3.75 for spike pitchers where two men are used to the rig, and $4 where only one spike pitcher is used. We feel that these are good wages for the work involved, fair for the laborer who has no swivel chair job by any means, and fair to the farmer who has a good crop to market at a low price."

R. G. Catron, deputy commissioner of agriculture, will have charge of the Minneapolis office of the state department of agriculture and labor.

Governor's Statement.
Governor Nestos today makes the following appeal to the people of North Dakota:

"North Dakota is about to harvest the best general average crop which has been grown since 1916. Practically every resident of this state is directly or indirectly dependent upon the net profits from our farming operations. Whether we can harvest and thresh this crop without loss or damage depends to a very considerable extent upon an adequate supply of experienced farm labor which can be relied upon to deliver a day's work for a reasonable day's pay. A poor class and an inadequate supply of farm help employed at high wages can dissipate the profit over cost of production of the 1922 crop. People generally in the state appreciate that even a large crop at prevailing prices does not leave a sufficient margin of profit to warrant exorbitant harvest wages. The farm help which we need can be found among the farm boys and farm hands in the areas of dense farm population in the states to the east and south."

"Let every good citizen of North Dakota do his full share in providing a plentiful supply of harvest help ready to render a fair day's work for a fair day's pay and incidentally advertise the golden opportunity for the industrious, enterprising farm youth on the prairies of North Dakota, the resources of which have not yet been scratched."

One day last week a girl stood up in a street car because her stocking had a hole in the knee.

"At a recent conference with officials of the four railroads, operating through this state they consented to the making of a $5 flat rate from Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth and Superior to any point in North Dakota effective between the dates of August 1st and 15th, in parties of five or more. This concession was made because of a realization of the importance of adequate, competent help at reasonable wages to the successful harvest of the North Dakota crop and the prosperity of the territory through which they operate. The making of the rate was not with the expectation of it producing direct revenue. With this rate soon to be in effect it now is incumbent upon each and every citizen of the state to exert his utmost effort in any cause which will result in a re-cruiting of such farm boys and experienced farm laborers to take advantage of the rate and come out here and work in our harvest."

Write Personal Letters.
"No better means could be found of disseminating full information in regard to the opportunities for employment to our harvest and the railroad rates in effect than personal letters from the residents of this state to their relatives and friends in other states, notably Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, South Dakota and Illinois. May I not, then, make the suggestion that every community, city and village allot itself a quota of not less than 25 such letters? Is not the situation of such importance as to warrant a gathering of public spirited citizens in every community, city and village called for the purpose of making specific arrangements for an organized effort to secure the writing of such letters and to perfect a system of uniform wage scales and handling labor on arrival?"

"Have we ever had a better opportunity to display the resources and advantages of our state than is presented during this harvest period? Is there a better group of people to inculcate with North Dakota possibilities than the enterprising youth from the farms in the states to the east and south? Many will stay and those who do not will return to their homes with an account of our good crop and the opportunities for the farmer of modest means.

"Our State Department of Agriculture and Labor is to maintain an office advantageously located in Minneapolis to route prospective harvest hands to points in the state in need of help during the period in which the rate is in effect. Full and detailed plans are being worked out to otherwise facilitate the distribution of men to all sections of the state irrespective of their remoteness from the Twin Cities and the head of the Lakes."

FIRE-CRAZED BEAR FIGHTS WITH MULE

Fire Routed Bear from Its Lair; It Collided with Mule; Fight Was On

MULE GOT THE DECISION

Prince George, B. C., July 24.—Two amusing bear stories, both vouched for by reputable eye-witnesses, are going the rounds here. Forest fires in northern British Columbia during the past month have had a peculiar effect upon some of the wild animals of the woods, judging from some of the stories brought in to Prince George.

A fight between a fire-crazed bear and a mule, in which the bear was worsted occurred at L. Mason's ranch, at Bednesti, B. C. The forest fire routed the bear from its lair, and in its dash from the flames into the open country it collided violently with a jack mule. The bear was promptly stretched out on the ground by a double butt, too from the capable hind hoofs, and the mule calmly resumed its interrupted grazing.

Thoroughly angered, the bear picked itself up and cautiously approached the mule from a different angle. The huge paw was brought down with a resounding thwack on the mule's ribs. This was unfortunate. The hoofs were again brought into play, after a quick, accurate manoeuvre for position, and the fight was called off so far as the bear was concerned. Mr. Mason, who had witnessed the unusual encounter, dashed to the house for a rifle to finish the bear, should any life be left. Before he could get back to the scene, however, the bear managed to get on its feet and return to the less exciting environment of the forest fire.

A fire patrol ranger is sponsor for another bear story. While making a survey in the mountain district, he came upon a young cub suffering from severe burns on feet and body. The youngster was whimpering from the pain and the forester took pity on it, lifted it into his car and there made it fast with some rope.

The patrolman started on his journey only to discover that the mother bear had appeared and was in hot pursuit. As the track ran uphill at this point, the bear, making long strides, gained steadily and the need for strategy was clearly indicated. The forester's book of instructions does not cover a situation such as this, but the ranger was resourceful and decided that the best plan would be to throw the cub overboard. His attempts to untie the knots on the lashings which secured the youngster to the machine, however, proved futile. Pursuer and pursued came to a yet steeper grade, with the advantage all with the former. Finally, with one mighty effort the old bear threw herself on the back of the car, holding on by her claws and paws.

This is where the forester decided to retire in favor of the enemy. He dove off the car, and regained his feet just time to see it continuing its journey eastward, with a mother and child happily reunited as its passengers. Later the automobile was found, run down and everything intact except the side of the seat where the cub had been tied, the old bear having torn it out to release her offspring.

TRaverse DES SIOUX TREATY SIGNED IN 1851

This Treaty Gave to Minn. and Federal Government 19,000,000 Acres of Land

OPPOSITION WAS MET

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 24.—Seventy-one years ago yesterday there was signed treaty of Traverse des Sioux, giving to Minnesota and the federal government more than 19,000,000 acres of the most fertile land in the state.

Historians point to this treaty between the "whites" and the Wahpeton and Sisseton Sioux as one of the most important events in the annals of the Northwest. The act permitted this vast territory, now designated as Southern Minnesota, to be opened to settlement of the Sioux, lands west of the Mississippi river, and the rapid development of the state really dates from that time.

The signing of the treaty between the Indians and the whites was attended by elaborate ceremonies, which included the appearance of all the leading chiefs of the various tribes, and territorial officials. The treaty for the whites was negotiated by Governor Alexander Ramsey and Colonel Luke Lea, while the Indians were represented by their various councils and chiefs.

Considerable opposition was met on the part of the Redmen who hesitated in giving away this vast domain and former hunting grounds. The treaty comprised practically the entire south central portion of the state, nearly 3,000,000 acres in Iowa, and more than 1,750,000 acres in South Dakota, in all approximately 24,000,000 acres of the choicest land on the continent, local officials say.

For this vast area, the treaty stipulated that the upper bands of Indians should receive $1,665,000 and the lower bands $1,110,000. This money was distributed to chiefs, some set aside for agricultural purposes, and the balance held by the federal government as a trust fund, interest thereon only to be paid the Indians at the rate of 5 per cent annually for fifty years.

BLIND MAN IS MAKING GOOD IN LAW STUDIES

Hibbing, Minn., July 24.—Although blind, a handicap usually considered fatal to ambition, Edward McCormick of Hibbing is making great strides in his law studies. He has passed all examinations in contracts, torts, completed courses in domestic relations, agencies, criminal law, domestic relations and personal property.

McCormick, an employee of the village engineering department has completed one year in law through a correspondence school, his expenses having been paid by the state as a part of the re-educational work.

Victor Johnson, village attorney, is tutoring McCormick and Francis Putnam of Mitchell is reading law to him.

D., July 24.—Between 250 and 275 teachers and students are expected to register for the second summer term of the Dickinson State Normal school which opens next Thursday morning, according to an announcement made this week by President S. T. May. The first summer term, the most largely attended and one of the most successful in the history of the school, will end next Wednesday noon. Should cool weather prevail it is anticipated that many of the present students will remain for the second term. The extreme heat of the last few days, however, has cut the prospect of an exceptionally large enrollment.

The treaty comprised practically the entire south central portion of the state, nearly 3,000,000 acres in Iowa, and more than 1,750,000 acres in South Dakota, in all approximately 24,000,000 acres of the choicest land on the continent, local officials say.

For this vast area, the treaty stipulated that the upper bands of Indians should receive $1,665,000 and the lower bands $1,110,000. This money was distributed to chiefs, some set aside for agricultural purposes, and the balance held by the federal government as a trust fund, interest thereon only to be paid the Indians at the rate of 5 per cent annually for fifty years.

No Liquor Sold to Indians.

The treaty stipulated that no liquor should be sold to the Indians. Another article of the treaty provided that the Sisseton and Wahpeton band should have a perpetual reservation ten miles wide on each side of the Minnesota river, extending from western boundary of the ceded lands to Hawk creek and the Yellow Medicine river; and the Medawakanton and Wahpeton bands received a like reservation of the same width continuing down the Minnesota to the Little Black river and to a line drawn south from its mouth to the Cottonwood river. The treaty was later ratified by the United States senate.

A treaty between the Indians and signed by Governor James Duane Doty of Wisconsin, under commission of the government ten years previous to the treaty of the Sioux was not ratified by the United States senate. This early treaty, however, would not have permitted the opening of this vast domain for settlement by the white man.

PASSENGERS ARE TOURED DURING "TRAIN WAITS"

Minneapolis, Minn., July 24.—An innovation in railroad tourist travel, scenic tours of Minneapolis and St. Paul have been arranged for through sleeping car passengers during the several hours wait between trains, by a major trunk line system.

Eastbound and westbound passengers have to wait from three to almost four hours in the two cities, and by an arrangement with a touring bus company, passengers are taken to the lake shore drives and scenic places. The tours generally end in St. Paul when started from here and vice versa when begun in the former city, privileges for boarding the trains in the other cities being in effect.

TOO PROUD TO GO TO BEACH, GIRLS DROWN

Sterling, Ill., July 24.—Clasped in each other's arms, the bodies of Ella Mull, 16, and Jennie Tobin, 15, members of the champion Sterling Lady Zouaves team were taken from Rock river 24 mid night Sunday after a continuous search, in which scores of citizens joined, which was started when the girls were reported missing early Saturday evening.

The girls, clad in home-made bathing suits, too proud to go bathing at beaches where swimmers congregated, sought a secluded place. Jennie could not swim. The positions of the bodies indicated that Ella gave her life in an effort to save her chum.

WESTERN HALF OF S. DAKOTA UNDEVELOPED

Pioneers Have Received but Little Attention or Help in Solving the Problems

BULLETIN IS ISSUED

Pierre, S. D., July 24.—That the western half of South Dakota is a comparatively undeveloped country and one which so far has received but little attention or help in the solution of the many problems and perplexities that fall to the lot of pioneers in any new country, is the declaration of C. G. Worsham, assistant in the state department of agriculture.

Mr. Worsham, who is in the cost of production section of the department in cooperation with the Jones County Farm Bureau conducted the first of a proposed series of farm surveys in Jones county early this year. Cost and return figures were gathered from 61 farms in various parts of the county, selected in a hit and miss manner to include both successful and unsuccessful farms. The results have been published in a department bulletin which is now ready for distribution.

Conditions found in Jones county are typical of many of the west river counties of South Dakota. Despite the lack of information needed by the farmers in this new territory, they have succeeded wonderfully well, Mr. Worsham declares. However, he points out, many mistakes and hardships might have been avoided had the right information been available to them.

"It is to be hoped," says Mr. Worsham in the introductory to the bulletin, "that this preliminary study in Jones county will show the need of extending to the farmers west of the Missouri river an increased interest and help in the business of developing and establishing farms on the virgin prairie. Although there is still a great deal of work to be done in the eastern half of the state, the farms there are older and consequently are better organized than those in the western half. They know more nearly the size of business that pays best, the variety and combinations of crops they can profitably raise, and how much corn should be grown."

Many Successful Farmers

"West of the river there are many successful farmers and a study of the organization of their business for a period of years would go a long way toward establishing the principle of better and more profitable farming in that area. By studying the methods of the most successful farmers it will be possible for newcomers and others to profit by the past experiences of those men who have successfully settled the country; it would give them an idea as to progress and prosperity they could reasonably expect.

"If it is desirable to plow up these western prairies and to transform them into farms, then all the available facilities of the state should be conveyed to help the people now on the land to develop a comprehensive program for the bringing in of new settlers and for advising and caring for them after they are located on the land. It is not enough to invite and urge them to settle on the prairie without personally looking after their interests and welfare while they are establishing themselves in their new homes and adjusting themselves to new and strange conditions.

"South Dakota has the interests of the western farmers at heart and will respond to their needs for assistance as quickly as to calls from other sections, but to intelligently render assistance the state must first of all inform itself as to what is actually being accomplished by the farmers now on the land, the progress they have made, and what the possibilities are for developing profitable farms. The object of the study in Jones county was to get forth the facts as they were actually found on the sixty-one farms, showing the organization of the farms and the profits or losses resulting from the 1921 business."

CO. AUDITORS TO MEET IN BISMARCK

State Tax Commissioner C. C. Converse has issued a call for the county auditors of the state to meet with him in Bismarck, August 17th for a conference upon taxes, tax legislation and other questions of a like nature. In calling the meeting, Mr. Converse has a hope of getting the widest possible expressions concerning taxation from the men who handle the routine work of all but the collection of taxation.

Mr. Converse feels that there is need for better understanding, and wider study of the tax machinery of the state and that there is possibly many changes needed in reaching a tax system that is fair to all the individual and property interests of the state.

Hot Weather Rules

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.
In every hot spell there are a number of prostrations, breakdowns and deaths. A little precaution would in most cases prevent such casualties, besides making one fit for the same amount of work as in normal weather.

Here are some of the more simple precautions for keeping energy and good disposition:

Wear lightweight, porous clothing that will let the air reach your skin. Avoid tight belts, garters, collars and hats. Clean clothes are cooler than soiled ones.

Eat less meat. Substitute green vegetables, fruits and cold foods for the heavy, heat-producing, foods. Avoid an excess of pastries, fats, sugars and starches.

See that you have a bowel movement once a day. Drink plenty of water but avoid ice water.

Bathe the feet daily and powder them with talcum. Change your stockings daily. Have a second pair of shoes and keep alternating them. Avoid high heels.

Do not powder excessively. Do all these things, then stop talking and thinking about the heat. Concentrate on your work, but don't overwork.

THE KING

We used to call him "Murphy," and we used to call him "spud"; And everybody thought he was the cheapest kind of grub; He came upon our tables then, disguised in many ways, And never a poet cared to chant a hymn in his praise.

How changed the scene since yesterday, the thing we once despised Has risen from its humble rank, and now is highly prized; Like to the golden apples of Hesperides, so fair, He hangs far far beyond our reach we can do naught but stare.

Bring forth the robes of royalty, the scepter and the crown; Bring forth the throne of massy gold, the jewels of renown, Then as we crown our conqueror, a song of triumph sing; Remove your hats, and humbly bow before your new found king.

OIL IS POURED ON TROUBLED MARCEL WAVES; NOW YOU NEEDN'T WAVER

BY MARGARET ROHE
Nobody knows how she suffered for those—
Those ringlets of which poets rave—
Nobody knows save those other poor dames
Who've all had a permanent wave.

Fair ladies (also brunets) have been doing in oil since the days when Christian martyrs were boiled in it and the times when the Old Masters painted them in it. Modern masters are still doing them, full figure, three-quarters and bust with oily success.

However, it remains for Nestle, that artist in hair, who concentrates on heads alone, to do the job so well in oil that he combines all the sufferings of the early martyrs and all the beautifying results of a Sir Peter Lely and gets away with it at the rate of 30 or 40 a day during the busy season.

Sounds like a regular Bluebeard, but he really is just the inventor of the new process for permanent waves.

Time was 10 or 11 years ago, when the first permanent waving machines, invented by Nestle, were tried out in this country. After a first shy reluctance women flocked to the torture like lambs to the slaughter.

Seven Hours' Torture
It took from six to seven hours of burning, twisting, tiring agony to accomplish the frenzied frizzes, but what matter? Hadn't every straight-haired woman-child since the days of Eve prayed to have typhoid fever so her hair would come out and come in again curly?

Consequently even a torture machine that would accomplish her waves of desire was received with open arms and clenched teeth. Though her moans and shrieks would have made a medieval inquisitor turn pale, what cared she if only she waved at the finish?

In the course of recent years many inventions have been made to alleviate the sufferings of the would-be wave, but up to last March it was still a matter of five hours' fatigue and about 26 minutes of actual intense heated torture.

Oil on Troubled Waves
Then along came Nestle and poured oil on the troubled waves. With his new method three hours is all the time required to turn the straightest locks into rippling ringlets.

The hair is first saturated in the oil and then wound on metallic tubes. Wrapped in oiled strips of cloth instead of the erstwhile borax-treated strips it is then inserted directly into the aluminum cylinders of the electric machine.

The current is switched on for just seven sizzling minutes and then the victim is done—well done—but only half a head. If she has to have a whole bobbed head waved it means an encore of the seven hectic minutes as the machine only has a 24-curl capacity.

Although the wave often emerges like a burnt offering, the finished effect of damp-defying ringlets is irresistible enough to offset a slight branding. What's a blither or two compared to the joy of being able to toss the little old kid curls in the garbage can?

And so lovely woman flocks to the permanent waving torture chamber and never wavers at a waving. She is as casual and regular about her permanent wave as she is about her manicure.

Many already have 15 or 20 wavings to their heads and credit and are still going ahead strong.

WOMAN SEEKS U. S. SENATE SEAT "TO MAKE WAR IMPOSSIBLE"

BY ROY GIBBONS
Oshkosh, Wis., July 24.—Mrs. Jessie J. Hooper, who hopes to unseat Senator La Follette and go to the United States Senate, is practicing on the adding machine for a strenuous campaign.

The adding machine is in her husband's wholesale grocery store. "I'll count my own votes with it," she says, "and when I get to Washington I'll be better fitted to keep a check on national expenditures."

Mrs. Hooper will have no opposition for the Democratic nomination for senator. She is looking toward the November election contest with La Follette and seriously is studying business, via the grocery, to fit herself for the business side of politics.

Her daily routine comprises three hours of clerking, three of management and two of correspondence. Stands for Peace
Chief plank in her campaign platform is world peace.

Veal Dishes

BY BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH.
Cooking Authority for NEA Service and Columbia University.

Veal is a delicious meat, but many feel it is difficult of digestion. But if thoroughly cooked there is no danger.

Cut in pieces for serving, roll each piece in well seasoned flour and cook in fat until brown, having about three tablespoons of fat in a frying pan.

If the fat is all cut from the meat, and fried out, it is as good as butter. Of course any other fat, as bacon, lard, drippings or butter, may be used.

After the pieces of meat are a good brown, remove and, using the fat remaining in pan, add an equal amount of flour, and one or two cups of water, salt and pepper. When thickened add the pieces of veal, cover closely, and cook one hour, over a slow fire.

Another good way is to bake the cutlet.

Baked Veal Cutlet With New Onions.
1 veal cutlet cut one inch thick
2 bunches young onions (scallions)
2 fresh tomatoes or 1 cup canned tomatoes.

1 teaspoon paprika.
1 teaspoon salt.
1 cup water.

2 tablespoons flour.
1 teaspoon sugar.
1-8 teaspoon pepper.
2 tablespoons fat.

Roll the cutlet in the flour and fry in the fat until brown. Place the meat in a casserole or baking

2 teaspoon of salt
1 tablespoon vinegar
2 tablespoons of granulated gelatine

1-2 cup of cold water.
1 cup of sour cream
2 tablespoons grated horse-radish
1 tablespoon vinegar
Salt to taste.

Cut off head and tail of mackerel and cook in the water with the seasonings, salt and vinegar until tender.

Take from the water, remove skin and bones and separate into small pieces. Strain the liquid remaining and add boiling water to make two cups.

All gelatine which has been dissolved in the cold water, season with salt and pepper and allow it to become cool.

As it begins to set add the mackerel and turn into molds which have been dipped in cold water. Set away to harden.

At serving time, unmold on lettuce leaves and serve with the sour cream beaten until stiff, to which has been added the horseradish and seasoning.

Household Hints

COMPLEXION HINT.

If you wish to keep your complexion beautiful and fresh you might try this: Give it a bath, first with hot, then with cold water. Next rub on a lotion composed of one part glycerine and three parts rosewater. Then give it a thorough massage with cold cream and finally go over the surface with ice, wrapped in a cloth.

SWEATERS.

Some of the newest silk sweaters come in with very fine mesh and are heavily embroidered, giving the effect of a blouse rather than a sweater. They have long fringed scarfs to match.

STRING BEAN

"String bean" trimming doesn't sound intriguing, but it is being used extensively on coats and wraps of silk. It consists of little ornaments which look very much like the humble vegetable after which they are Many poke shapes are seen in fashionable millinery shops. Usually they are trimmed with flowers, or with large veils wound about the brim.

METALS
Silver and gold in any lace or solid cloth are strongly recommended for fall use. Often the lace is used over colored satins and crepes.

BREAKFAST COATS
Very attractive, and summy breakfast coats are made of dotted swiss, organdie and voile. They are lace or self trimmed.

JAPANESE FANS
Some very beautiful Japanese fans are trimmed with real lace and Oriental ribbons. Tassels of beads hang from the handles.

PAINTED HATS
Very large hats of coarse black straw are trimmed solely with large, gaudy flowers, painted on the brim.

HIGHER HEELS
Shoe manufacturers say heels will be higher this winter. Color combinations in shoes continue to be popular.

CHAINS
Bead chains are growing much longer. Often they are worn twice or three times around the neck.

NEW CLOCK
The new alarm clock is a thinner model than the one we have grown accustomed to, and has a radium dial, so it may be seen in the dark.

DYED LACES
Dyed laces are very popular. Now they are being used on summer materials like voile, organdie and nets.

GIANTS LOSE LEAGUE LEAD BUT REGAIN IT

They Defeated Cincinnati While the Cardinals Were Losing to the Braves

DETROIT IN LUCKY WIN

Sister Made Three Errors. Ruth and Meusel Both Went Hitless

(By the Associated Press) Chicago, July 24.—After losing the lead to the St. Louis Cardinals for a day the Giants were back on top in the national league today by a margin of three points in the percentage column, although the westerners were a half game ahead in the won and lost column.

St. Louis lost to Boston by the same score after making it four straight from the Braves, closing a home stand in which Rickey's men won seventeen and lost six. Tomorrow the two pennant rival begin a series at the Polo grounds.

St. Louis outbatted Detroit but seven errors, including three by the usually brilliant Sister cost the Browns an 11 to 6 defeat. Their league lead was cut to a game and a half as the Yanks had to five hits and the Cubs won four to one.

Two unusual groupings of figures were noted in yesterday's scores. In the National league's three games, the score of each was 4 to 1.

In the American three of the winning clubs ran up an even eleven markers each while the White Sox barely fell short with ten.

NEW SALEM AND BISMARCK TIE, RAIN ENDS GAME

A game which promised to be nip and tuck throughout was broken up by rain at the baseball part Sunday afternoon. New Salem and Bismarck, opposing teams, were tied 3 to 3, with Bismarck coming to bat in the last of the fourth inning when the rainclouds interfered. Schultz, the New Salem southpaw, was opposed by Reuter for Bismarck. The visitors got one run in the first inning but the locals came back with three in their half, aided by errors. New Salem tied the score before the rain descended.

The prison baseball game, which started earlier, was finished before the rain interfered, the prison team beating Tuttle by a score of 12 to 3.

BROWNS SAVE SHOCKER FOR DRIVE

SHOCKER-ST. LOUIE SLABMAN

Ready to Start when Fohl Gives Word.—Hopes to Win 30 Games

BY BILLY EVANS. "What is the matter with Shocker of St. Louis?"

During the last two weeks in June, and the first part of July, I had that question fired at me time and again. "The failure of Shocker's name to appear in the box scores with the regularity that usually features games in which the Browns play caused the fans to wonder, made them curious.

Shocker since June 10 has been in the hospital part of the time, and merely resting up the rest, putting, ready for the big drive down the home stretch.

During the first eight weeks of play Shocker won 12 games for the Browns. He lost three or four through the toughest kind of breaks. He saved several by going to the relief of some faltering pitcher.

Shocker is a glutton for work and no situation is too tough. He seems to revel in games where one's nerve is tested to the limit.

Shocker was once the property of the New York Americans. He came to the Browns in a wholesale swap of players.

If there is one thing a player likes to do, it is to defeat the club that discards him. Since going to St. Louis Shocker's pet hobby has been beating New York.

On June 10 Shocker faced New York in the first game of a series at St. Louis. New York knocked him off the rubber. Such an experience was unusual to Shocker. He hit his left leg in that game, making it difficult for him to properly stride when delivering the ball.

It was the first time the New York club has ever treated him so rudely. Shocker is game. Instead of complaining about his leg he merely informed Manager Fohl that he would be ready to go back at the Yankee the next day.

Once again Shocker failed to finish. Unquestionably the injured leg had considerable to do with the two failures.

That night Shocker went to the hospital for treatment. During his absence the rest of the staff have carried the burden most capably.

Ready for the Word. Shocker is ready to start again. Not only has the leg entirely recovered, but his arm is certain to be

TWO SIDES OF TURNOVER

The alert business man dealing with present day conditions knows that the big word today is "Turnover." Whether he be a merchant, manufacturer, jobber, or banker, he sees that one thing with a clear vision unbiased by the limits of his own business. It is in the air, and on the tip of every tongue.

And yet many of them—entirely too many—are thinking on only one side of Turnover. They think of it as meaning rapid selling—putting money in and getting it out quickly and at a profit. They realize that they must put greatly increased efforts back of all their plans for selling and distribution.

The other half of Turnover is the consumer. All selling plans and efforts fail if the consumer doesn't want to buy. His desire for the product must be created. He must meet the seller half way. He must be in a mood to buy before the salesman meets him across the counter.

That is the function of Advertising—to create consumer demand and consumer preference. With this demand as a fact all selling plans have a chance to succeed. Without it they fail. The only chance for salesmanship to succeed without an existing demand is for salesmanship to assume the task that belongs to advertising—the task of creating demand.

If the present efforts that are being put into selling were amply supported by a corresponding effort to create consumer demand through Advertising, the business conditions of this country would be rapidly changed into an era of great prosperity—in spite of Old World conditions and everything else.

The proof of this is in the fact that right now, under these very conditions, the manufacturers who are putting proper emphasis on creating a demand for their product, as well as selling it, are doing a big business and are actually getting the high turnover that others are trying so strenuously to get through intensive selling.

Now, Therefore, the said property to be sold is described as follows to-wit: The East side of the Soo Railroad Right of Way at Baldwin, Burleigh County, North Dakota, and located on lot 23 and the North 50 feet of lot 21 of the Right of Way of the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railway Company at Baldwin, North Dakota.

Notice is hereby given that I, the undersigned as sheriff of Burleigh County, North Dakota will sell the above described personal property to the highest bidder for cash at public auction, at the location of the said grain elevator of the Right of Way of the Soo Railway Company of the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railway Company at the town site of Baldwin, in the County of Burleigh, in the State of North Dakota on the 4th day of Aug. 1922 at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day

PROFESSORS AT UNIVERSITY REMAIN SILENT

No Statement Forthcoming
Following the Decision of the State Board

WILLIS OUT OF THE CITY

No discussion of the ruling of the state board of administration on the proposed retirement of Dean H. E. Willis, from the faculty of the state university, took place at the meeting of the board at the university, although the decision of the board in this case was communicated to the interested professors by letter and made public by the board.

It was announced that the board has concluded in the findings and conclusion of the special advisory committee of the university faculty which investigated the case and that while it does not feel that the removal of the three professors is warranted on the basis of the charges preferred by President Thomas Kane, yet it agrees with the conclusion of the faculty committee that the welfare of the university demands the separation from the university of one or both of the parties to the controversy and that the initiative in the matter should be taken by the faculty themselves.

Action Taken
Therefore Prof. Ladd is informed by the board of administration that in the light of the committee's conclusion and in view of the fact that the two year normal course in the school of education will be discontinued in June, 1923, the board recommends that he be given a year's leave of absence at that time on half pay, and that during that year he sever his connection with the university.

To Dean Willis the board expresses the belief that he will immediately arrange his future plans to follow the suggestion of the committee.

Prof. Libby is informed of the conclusion of the faculty committee and that this conclusion should guide his action in relation to the university.

Professors Silent
Dr. A. J. Ladd and Dr. O. G. Libby, two of the university men mentioned in the report of the board of administration, both stated last night that they did not wish to make any statement regarding the board action at the present time. Dr. Ladd said that later on he might make a statement, but just now there was so much uncertainty that he did not feel it wise to say anything one way or the other.

Dean H. E. Willis, the third faculty member whose resignation is recommended, could not be reached as he is out of the city at the present time.

Findings Approved
The findings of the special committee upon the evidence introduced at the hearings meets with the unanimous approval of the board of administration—and furthermore this board is united in deciding that the following conclusions arrived at by the special committee are for the best interests of the university," says a letter of the board to the faculty committee.

Conclusion Reached
"By the informal testimony which has been presented in confidence to the committee, it is shown beyond a doubt that there is a condition existing at the university that for the best interests of all should be remedied as speedily as it can be accomplished with due regard for the welfare of those most closely concerned," said the further statement in the report that:

"After calm deliberation over the matter this committee is unanimously of the opinion that these three men and the president cannot work together in harmony. It is therefore the judgment of the committee that within a reasonable time after this date one or both of the parties to the controversy that has for so long menaced the efficiency of our service to the state should sever official connections with the university. It is the suggestion of the committee made in its fairness to both sides that the initiative in such action be taken by the parties themselves."

Letter to Willis
The letter of the administration board to Dean Willis is as follows: "Dean Willis:

"The board of administration has carefully read and considered the report of the special committee of the council appointed to consider the recommendation of President Kane for your demotion as dean of the law school.

"The president's charge contained in his letter to you asking for your demotion as dean of the law school are regarded as unfounded. However the special committee in the following paragraphs of its summary has reported a situation which the board considers detrimental to the best interests of the university."

"The paragraphs from the committee's report already given are then quoted and the letter proceeds as follows:

"The board approves the conclusions arrived at by the special committee and believes that you will immediately arrange your future plans to follow the suggestion which the conscientious judgment of this committee deems for the best interests of the university."

Letter to Libby
In the letter to Prof. Libby the board says:

"Dear Dr. Libby:
"The board of administration has carefully read and considered the report of the special committee appointed to consider the recommendations of President Kane for your demotion from the faculty of the university. In view of your long term as professor of history at the university and on account of the great service you have performed for the state and the northwest in your historical research work we have de-

Tom Harvey, who police charge was the leader of the miners in the march from Arvella, Pa., shown after he was captured by state troopers.

cluded in your case to mitigate the conclusions expressed in the following paragraphs of the report of the special committee which are as follows:

"The same paragraphs are quoted, and the letter concludes:
"These conclusions express the conscientious judgment of a committee of your fellow associates on the faculty and should serve to guide your action in relation to the university."

"The board's letter to Prof. Ladd reads:
"Dear Dr. Ladd:
"The board of administration has carefully read and considered the report of the special committee of the council appointed to investigate the recommendations of President Kane for your demotion from the faculty of the university. The board has decided that the president's charges in his letter to you are without sufficient foundation, but the conclusion of the special committee expressed in the closing paragraph of their summary expresses a condition at the university which is in the opinion of the board detrimental to its best interests."

(Here the same conclusions are quoted.)

"We therefore, in view of the fact that the two years' normal course in the school of education will be discontinued in June, 1923, recommend that you be given a year's leave of absence on half pay at that time and during the said year you sever your relations with the university."

The letter to President Kane simply states that: "After reading and carefully considering the report of the special committee appointed to investigate these charges, the board of administration does not feel warranted in approving the recommendations of the president based on the charges preferred."

Plans Rescinded
The recommendation of the committee regarding the elimination of one or both of the parties to the controversy is then quoted, and the letter concludes as follows:

"In your recommendations of May 17, you recommend the creating of a graduate school and the appointment of a dean, also a dean of men and an assistant to the president. These are all matters containing changes of policy and the board feels that the provisions contained in the university constitution providing that such changes of policy should properly be submitted to the council and advisory committee first for approval or disapproval before being submitted to the board of administration. We therefore rescind our action approving your recommendations creating these new positions, in order that they be presented as amendments by the constitution of the university."

This apparently means the rescinding of the action appointing Prof. C. A. Abbott dean of the graduates school and Prof. R. R. Hitchcock dean of men.

THE ELTINGE

"The Wall Flower," the new Goldwyn picture, by Rupert Hughes, which shows at the Eltinge Tuesday and Wednesday is a comedy in Mr. Hughes' best manner. The pathos of the plain girl who always "sits out" dances, and whose sorrows almost turn into tragedy, is excellently portrayed by Miss Colleen Moore. She is a comedienne of rare ability, and her art ranges from broad farce to tragic heights. For one so young, she has made an outstanding success with her impersonation of the wall flower.

One of the principal parts in "The Wall Flower" is acted splendidly by a college boy, as an actor, and who is none other than Rush Hughes, son of the author. The young man was spending his holidays at his father's Los Angeles home during the making of the photoplay, and begged for a part in the picture. The result of the experiment in using a real college boy for one of the major parts has been hugely successful.

AESTHETIC DANCING IS POPULAR

Develops Poise, Grace, and Assurance, Says Mrs.
Juliet deLendrecie

JAZZ MOTIF MUST GO

Fargo, N. D., July 24.—North Dakota is noted for its fine dairy cows and political innovations rather than for aesthetic dancing, but the latter are finding their way into the life of the state. Possibly the most notable progress along the line of artistic endeavor which has been made is in the comparatively little known art of aesthetic dancing.

Eastern critics who have viewed the work of some of the dancing classes here have declared it the best to be found this side of Chicago with no exceptions.

Dancing has become popular among the young people here for several reasons, according to Mrs. Juliet deLendrecie, herself a dancer and teacher of the art. "Zig-zagging with swimming it is the most thorough and all around form of exercise known, developing lungs and muscles as well, she says. Besides this it develops poise, grace and assurance. Music teachers say that it helps in understanding and appreciation of that art."

The Vogue of dancing is not confined to Fargo alone but pupils are coming here from all parts of the state as far west as Dickinson and from Minnesota as well.

The youngsters, especially the girls, have gone into the work with such enthusiasm that a dancing revue was formed here which has appeared in many of the cities of the state and in adjacent Minnesota. Most of the dances which have been original ones which the leader created by adapting music to some fragmentary story from mythology or to a story invented for the occasion and by working out suitable dance steps.

Dancers of the town take part in many pageants and entertainments and each year present a dance festival.

They do not confine their activities to amateur affairs any longer, however. Some have gone into vaudeville—others into musical comedy. They frequently perform in vaudeville here, and a number of Fargo's young dancers are considering offers to take up professional work in various capacities.

Good ballet work has become a commonplace in Fargo and musical comedies of the road type offer nothing in the way of variety, entertainment or color that has not been done at least as well by local talent. The youngsters themselves take to stage work with great enthusiasm, according to Mrs. deLendrecie and even some of the boys have appeared in the frolics staged here, though they are greatly in the minority.

The jazz spirit which permeates the audiences as well as some of the dancers is one of the greatest obstacles to the progress of the art. Ragtime music will stay but the jazz motif must go and is disappearing.

INDICTMENTS ARE DISMISSED

(By the Associated Press)
Washington, July 24.—Indictments against five persons in connection with the Knickerbocker theater disaster of last January in which 97 lives were lost, were dismissed today by Justice Siddons of the District of Columbia supreme court who sustained demurrers.

The indictments charged manslaughter against Reginald D. Genere, the architect of the theater; John H. Ford, the iron work contractor; Julian H. Downman, building inspector; Richard G. Fletcher, cement contractor; and Donald M. Wallace, foreman for the building contractor. The court held the indictment defective and insufficient in that the material and essential facts forming the basis of the alleged offense were not set out with reasonable certainty and the indictment therefore was too vague, indefinite and uncertain. The indictment failed to show what act or acts of negligence were committed by each of the accused persons, the court decided.

PUBLIC HEALTH WORK OUTLINED

Miss Agnes V. Orr Tells Rotarians of Preventative Work

Miss Agnes V. Orr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Orr, and State Tax Commissioner C. C. Converse were the speakers before the noon meeting of the Bismarck Rotary Club today at which the officers of the Knights of Columbus were guests.

Miss Orr, who entered Red Cross work during the war and continued in an allied branch when she entered the public health service is now one of the workers in Hennepin County Anti-Tuberculosis association, Minneapolis. She described the work that was being done by this association in bettering health conditions, especially among the school children of Minneapolis and Hennepin county and incidentally gave the statistics of the world battle with tuberculosis.

Mr. Converse spoke from the subject, the reduction of taxes, finding that it was impossible to reduce taxes as long as government expenditures were kept at the high pitch of the present day and that government expenditures could be reduced but little as long as salaries were kept at the present height.

GRADUATION EXERCISES POPULAR

Eighth grade completion exercises have become so large in North Dakota that it became necessary to use chalet-like tents at two of the last held according to reports to the State Superintendent. At Center, in Oliver county, forty-seven of the fifty-seven children finishing the eighth grade were present to receive their diplomas. This brought so large a crowd of fathers and mothers that none of the buildings of the town would hold the crowd and a tent was secured. At Towner, a chalet-like tent was in progress and the school authorities made the graduation program a part of the program of one afternoon. Two hundred people completed the work in this county but a number were not present to receive their certificates. This latter completion exercise closed the eight grade ceremonies for the closing school year.

MURPHY, MADER ARE BLAMED

Declared Responsible for Chicago Outrages

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, July 24.—Responsibility for numerous acts of violence was placed on Timothy "Big Tim" Murphy and Fred "Frenchy" Mader and three other union officials, by a special prosecutor for the state in the opening argument of the trial of the union officials on a charge of conspiracy in connection with the murder of a police lieutenant during Chicago's so-called labor war.

The prosecutor charged that the five defendants caused more than 30 bombs to be placed at the homes of contractors under the Landis award; that a number of buildings were bombed at their orders; and that workmen were assaulted and beaten by them and their followers. Attorneys for the defense denied the accusations of the state, saying "the evidence will not show this to be true."
